

Would you like to serve as a Trustee of Across?

Across is looking for new Trustees who are prepared to work towards the charity's ongoing mission of taking those who suffer from ill health or disability to Lourdes, and on other pilgrimages and holidays, using suitable transport adapted to their needs.

Our goals

We are currently working on the delivery of an ambitious strategic plan, with key objectives of increasing the numbers of groups travelling with Across, developing a robust management structure fit for future growth, and a fund-raising strategy that will change the way the charity's activities are funded, and make our pilgrimage and holiday experiences accessible to a much wider audience.

Is this a journey you would like to join us on? Our ethos is focussed on principles of faith, family and fulfilment, and we are looking for like-minded colleagues who are committed to living these values and giving their time in support of our work. If you share a passion for continuous improvement and want to have a positive impact on others, then we want to put our charity in your hands.

Your commitment

The Board of Trustees meet as a management committee 4 or 5 times a year, usually at a week-end. These week-ends sometimes coincide with other events for the charity, which Trustees are expected to attend and support wherever possible. Meetings mostly take place in England or Scotland, and occasionally in Lourdes, France.

A fair amount of business is conducted by email and telephone between board meetings and it is essential that all Trustees provide consistent commitment and timely contributions throughout the year to ensure that the charity progresses at pace and to agreed timescales.

As well as this, a proportion of the charity's business is carried out through a small number of specialist sub-committees, whose role is to ensure appropriate governance and oversight of key areas of the charity's activities. The committees meet 2 or 3 times a year (where possible these are timed to coincide with board meetings), are led by a Trustee and include members of the Across staff team and supporters and volunteers actively involved in pilgrimage travel.

Trustees are appointed for a 5 year term, and can stand for re-appointment for a further two 5-year terms, subject to approval by the board and the charity's members – re-appointment takes place at the charity's Annual General Meetings each year on a rotational basis.

This is a non-remunerated voluntary role. Across recognises that volunteers give generously of their time in support of our work. The charity has a budget for its governance costs and Trustees may claim their expenses in accordance with Across's Expense Policy (available upon request).

Who you are

Across welcomes applications from Trustees with skills in a range of areas (see specific role specifications below for our current requirements). All Trustees should ideally be practising Catholics or have a strong affinity with the Catholic faith or other Christian traditions. The charity has a strong Scottish heritage, having been born out of extraordinary support and fund-raising amongst a small group of supporters, and therefore applications from Scottish candidates are especially welcome.

Please see each role specification for the details of how to apply. We hope that you might want to join us on this exciting journey.

Overall Purpose of the Trustee Role

Trustees take ultimate responsibility for the work that Across does, and the ways in which it generates and spends its income to achieve its aims. It is a big responsibility, focussing on the strategic direction of the organisation, agreeing plans and budgets, and holding the General Manager to account for the delivery of strategy.

It has a legal dimension too, with trustees legally responsible for ensuring that the organisation operates to standards set by Parliament, the Charity Commission and the Office for the Scottish Charity Regulator. Specifically, the Board is responsible for:

- the overall governance and strategic direction of the charity;
- its financial health;
- the probity of its activities;
- ensuring the organisation's aims, objectives and goals are in accordance with its governing document, and legal and regulatory guidelines.

Statutory Duties of a Trustee

The following is a brief outline of the legal duties charitable trustees must fulfil:

- Duty of trust
- Duty to comply with the charity's governing document
- Duty to act in the best interests of the charity, present and future beneficiaries
- Duty to avoid conflicts of interest
- Duty to safeguard assets
- Duty not to benefit from their position
- Duty of care
- Duty to act personally
- Duty to act collectively
- Duty to keep accounts

Should you wish to investigate further the legal responsibilities of a charity trustee, we would refer you to the websites for the Charity Commission for England and Wales, or the Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator, both of which are excellent sources of information.

Since Across is a company limited by guarantee, trustees (directors) also have specific legal duties under the Companies Act 2006. Information on these can be found at <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2006/46/contents>

Trustee Accountability

As the Board is responsible and liable for the governance and functioning of the charity, it is accountable in varying degrees to a variety of stakeholders, incl Charity Members, beneficiaries, funders, the Charity Commission, Companies House and other regulators.

Furthermore, there is a growing demand within the sector and the wider general public for charities to be open and accountable for their actions and inactions. Trustees need to consider the wider implications of the decisions they make, and to communicate widely the formal reasons behind such decisions or actions. Above all else, trustees must adhere to any legal and regulatory requirements applicable to the charity's activities.

General Trustee Responsibilities

Work with other trustees to ensure that Across continues to grow and thrive by:

- Ensuring that Across's governance is of the highest possible standard.
- Working in partnership with other trustees, the General Manager and other senior staff.
- Ensuring that Across follows best practice and professional standards in its marketing and fundraising.

All trustees should be aware of, and understand, their individual and collective responsibilities, and should not be overly-reliant on one or more individual trustees in any particular aspect of the governance of the charity. For example, a Trustee is expected to be able to read the financial accounts to a level that they can ask questions and comprehend answers of a general nature and to ask if she or he needs support in this area. All trustees are expected to take ownership of their area of responsibility and ensure that all agreed activity is carried out in a timely and appropriate manner.
